American Tanks Reported To Be Fighting at Outskirts Of Border City of Strasbourg

PLANES BLAST PATHWAY FOR ALLIED ARMIES

Waves of Warplanes Darken Skies Above Britain in Flights Straight to the Rhineland

HAMMERED FROM EAST

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
London, Sept. 5.—(P)—American heavy bombers smashed today at the Rhineland transport and industrial centers of Stuttgart, Karlsruhe and Ludwigshafen, all in the path of advancing Allied armies of the west.

Berlin said other American fleets from Italy were striking in Hungary, supporting Russian armies moving through the Transylvanian Alps.

Perhaps the most significant of the three-target attack by nearly 750 Flying Fortresses and Liberators from Britain was the attack on the railroads and repair shops at Karlsruhe (189,850), just across the French-German border in the Rhineland. Mosquitoes dropped many two-ton blockbusters on Karlsruhe last night without loss.

Election Spotlight On Nevada Today

By the Associated Press
Nevada holds its primary elections today, chief interest centering in the race of Senator Pat McCarran for re-election.

The winner will oppose one of three Republicans who are trying for their party's nomination. They are State Senator Kenneth F. Johnson of Carson City, Kendrick A. Johnson, a Reno attorney, and George W. Malone.

National developments included a stamping in Michigan by Senator Harry S. Truman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and broadcasts tonight (MBS at 9:15 p. m.) by three Republican governors helping Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign.

The Republican presidential nominee, it was announced here, will join with the Republican governor in a joint radio address during the campaign.

STORM AT WEITON

Weirton, W. Va., Sept. 5.—(P)—A severe wind storm and rain storm last night forced cancellation of the second presentation of the Weirton Steel Company employees' annual Labor Day pageant.

The storm, striking shortly before the evening performance, damaged much of the pageant's properties on the huge outdoor stage.

Two Known Here Are Killed In Action; Another Missing

Another Warren boy is missing in action and two others well known in town have been reported killed in action in France in August, according to War Department messages arriving over the weekend.

Mrs. Gertrude J. Gleason, 407 Fourth avenue, was advised by the adjutant general's office that her son, Sgt. Felix Bruce Gleason, is reported missing in action over Czechoslovakia as of August 24; also that further details or additional information will be relayed to her as received.

Sgt. Gleason, middle gunner, has been overseas since the first week in August, when he wrote his mother of his safe arrival somewhere in Italy.

Word has been received by Mrs. Anna Hoflund, 103 West Wayne street, that her brother, Pfc. Mike H. Hoflund, formerly of Sheffield, was killed in France on August 7. Mrs. Hoflund could not be reached this afternoon to learn if any further details have been received.

Battle Said to be in Progress on German Soil Around Saarbrücken With Frontier Crossed at Three Places

ENEMY CAUGHT IN CALDRON ALONG CHANNEL

BULLETIN
At the Swiss-French frontier, Sept. 5.—(P)—Reports reaching this frontier tonight said the Allies had captured Aachen and Saarbrücken in Germany. (No confirmation of this report was forthcoming from supreme invasion headquarters, which has maintained almost complete silence for several days on operations in the French-German border district.) There were no new advances tonight on Strasbourg, Rhine river city. Earlier today American tanks were reported to have reached the outskirts of Strasbourg.

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Sept. 5.—(P)—American troops were believed to be stabling into the Rhine valley beyond the German border in a secret, shrouded offensive today. Perhaps they are well into the Siegfried Line defense zone.

This drive, which supreme headquarters has kept under a security silence for three days, has had time enough to have penetrated anywhere up to 75 miles.

A dispatch from the French frontier said it was reliably reported American tanks had reached the outskirts of the French border city of Strasbourg, on the Rhine 70 miles east of Nancy, and that fighting was in progress on German soil around Saarbrücken. Other unofficial reports said the Americans had crossed the German frontier at three places on a 100-mile front.

Resistance In South France Is Ineffective

By GEORGE BRIA
Rome, Sept. 5.—(P)—French troops sweeping up the Saône valley against ineffective Nazi resistance have reached the outskirts of Macon, a wine center 68 road miles north of Captured Lyons, as the pursuit of Germans fleeing southern France continues, Allied headquarters said today.

The airline distance between Macon and Lyons is 38 miles. A new batch of 2,400 prisoners taken by the French in their capture of Villefranche boosted the total since the landings on the Mediterranean beachheads to more than 65,000.

The French also reached Saint Bonnet de Brive, a town west of Macon, while farther east American forces passed through Montrevel.

Meanwhile it was disclosed that the American Seventh Infantry regiment, which was organized in 1798 and saw its first action against the British at Villiers plantation in Louisiana in 1814, was participating in the pursuit of the Germans.

The regiment took part in the North African landings, the Sicilian campaign in south Italy, and the fighting at Anzio. It was one of the first infantry units to enter Rome.

NO HOLIDAY FOR OUR TWO U. S. SENATORS

Williamsport, Sept. 5.—(P)—In a Labor Day address, N. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey urged organized labor to support the pre-natal national administration and said if "reactionaries" are elected they will do away with "any and every safeguard of labor."

Greensburg, Sept. 5.—(P)—Speaking before the Pennsylvania Letter Carriers Association here yesterday, U. S. Senator James J. Davis (R-Pa.) declared restrictions imposed by our wartime government must "terminate as quickly as possible after the war ends."

Delegates from 159 post offices attended the association's 20th biennial convention.

During the past 15 years Crane made eleven unsuccessful attempts to obtain a pardon, with Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics frequently appearing before the board in his behalf.

Crane, now 50, during his baseball career, played for the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers, in addition to the Philadelphia Athletics.

30 JAP SHIPS WIPED OUT IN PACIFIC AREA

American Warships Shell Within 675 Miles of Tokyo While Bombers Hit the Philippines

NO CHALLENGE OFFERED

By the Associated Press
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Sept. 5.—In a thunderous salute to the next big Pacific push, 30 Japanese ships and 107 planes have been knocked out in a five-day period during which American warships shelled within 615 miles of Tokyo and bombers steadily battered the invasion-menaced Philippines.

Communications yesterday and today reported the heaviest set of blows, spread along more than 4,000 miles of Nippon's inner defense ring of islands, since the conquest of Guam Aug. 9.

Planes alone expended more than 800 tons of explosives and hundreds of rockets.

The Bonin and Volcano islands were blasted by air and sea. Emphasizing the mammoth size of the Pacific fleet, while one task force was operating south of Tokyo in such strength that the Japanese navy declined to challenge it, another task force pounded Wake Island 1,645 miles to the east.

Japanese columns are only about 40 miles from the coveted airbase at Lingling near the Kwangsi border in a sudden drive along the trackless stretch of Hunan-Kwangsi railway which portends a renewed attempt to split China in two, the Chinese high command indicated last night.

On the Yunnan front the Japanese succeeded in taking the Chang-Chingshan road block two and one-half miles southeast of the Burma road town of Lungling, a high command communique said.

Japanese forces retreating into western Burma have abandoned Sittang, one of the Chindwin valley bases from which they launched their ill-fated invasion of India, and the village has been occupied (Turn to Page Nine)

Exiled Polish Government Is Facing Crisis

By JAMES F. KING
London, Sept. 5.—(P)—Poland's exiled government, shaking in a new crisis precipitated by Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski's denunciation of Allied failure to relieve Warsaw, called a special cabinet meeting today. Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk conferred with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden just before the ministers met.

It was understood that the commander-in-chief made his attack without consulting the government. He asserted that the Allies "abandoned" the patriot army of Gen. Bor during their month-long fight against the Germans in Warsaw.

Sosnkowski, commander-in-chief of Polish armed forces, made the assertion yesterday in a message to Gen. Bor, chief of the underground army in Poland. The London News Chronicle asserted that Mikolajczyk had immediately threatened to resign unless his government disavowed the statement.

Polish headquarters in London said today that Patriots within Warsaw still were fighting. A spokesman attributed yesterday's report that resistance had ended to official confusion surrounding the German capture of the "old city" and the reshuffle of troops.

1,500,000 Trek Back To School

Harrisburg, Sept. 5.—(P)—Reading and "riting and 'rithmetic start today for more than 1,500,000 Pennsylvania boys and girls as schools reopen in most of the commonwealth's 2,546 districts.

A few schools, notably in McKean, Chester and Schuylkill counties, have delayed opening on account of the spread of infantile paralysis. Girard college in Philadelphia also announced a delay in opening for the same reason.

Some 60,000 boys and girls who have employment certificates are expected to remain in summer jobs for a short time after school opens.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction said enrollment since Pearl Harbor had dropped 18 per cent.

HUNDREDS AT FUNERAL OF FORMER SENATOR

McCook, Neb., Sept. 5.—(P)—About 600 persons, mostly home town friends, crowded into McCook's small Methodist church yesterday to attend funeral services for George W. Norris, 83-year-old "champion of popular rights." Another 100 stood silently outside.

The "father" of TVA, who returned in 1942 to spend his final years in his comfortable Main street home here after gaining renown as a liberal during 40 years' congressional service, was buried in the Norris family plot in McCook's Memorial Park.

CATHEDRAL GUARDED BY DETAIL OF POLICE

New York, Sept. 5.—(P)—St. Patrick's cathedral on Fifth Avenue was guarded by a special police detail today.

E. E. Conroy, FBI special agent, told police he had received this warning message: "It's too bad that St. Patrick's Cathedral is next on the Nazi bombing list. Explosives will be planted on the 50th street side."

Capitulation Report Denied With Regrets

London, Sept. 5.—(P)—The Brussels radio caused a brief flurry today by broadcasting a wholly unconfirmed and circuitous report that Germany had capitulated, but soon denied it.

"We regret to announce that Germany has not capitulated as was announced this morning wrongly," said the Brussels radio, out of German hands only a day. "The war continues."

Red Offensive Drives Across Narew River

BULLETIN
London, Sept. 5.—(P)—Russian troops have crossed the historic Narew river in their new, full-fledged offensive toward East Prussia, the German radio asserted late today.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Sept. 5.—(P)—Russian and Romanian troops stormed down the mountainous eastern watershed of the Hungarian plains today while Red army units in Poland drove an armored battering ram deep into the Warsaw-East Prussia defense belt.

Soviet successes in Transylvania along the historic invasion route to Hungary and southwest of Lomza between Warsaw and East Prussia's southern border were being exploited with new attacks against fierce resistance, front dispatches said.

Russian and Romanian divisions, officially operating in coordination for the first time, pushed forward against a combined German and Hungarian force. They were heading for the Mures river valley, which runs westward into Hungary.

One supporting column veered southwestward toward Sibiu, which controls the northern exit of the Turnu Pass through the Transylvanian Alps.

Wounded Soldiers To Judge Miss America

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5.—(P)—Some of Uncle Sam's convalescing soldiers are going to get a chance to see if they see eye-to-eye with famed beauty experts on the selection of a "Miss America" for 1944.

The soldiers, who are recovering from war wounds in the army's England General Hospital here, will vote for their choice when the 33 American beauties competing in this year's "Miss America beauty pageant" visit them on Friday morning.

Have Your Scrap Paper On The Curb Early Wednesday

"We can't quit in the first half of the ninth inning."

That was the forceful opinion expressed this morning by W. T. Corbett, chairman of the County Salvage Committee, in announcing the big paper collection for tomorrow, Wednesday, September 6, "As a matter of fact," Mr. Corbett continued, "it may not be the ninth inning. It may be only the eighth or even the seventh. We don't know what Hitler may have up his sleeve for the last stand. You have only to look at the news of casualties in every edition of the Times to know that Warren County boys are still paying with their lives every day the war continues. If we quit now, we will prove disloyal to the cause they are dying to save."

Warren county needs every ounce of scrap paper tomorrow if it is to come anywhere near its quota. It has fallen behind in recent months due in part to the feeling of the people that the war is almost over. The collection in Warren borough, Sheffield, Russell, and Youngsville will be a curb pickup and paper

Integrity Of New Regime Is Questioned

Government of Premier Muraviev Claimed too Weak to Pull Empire "Out of Swamp"

BULLETIN
London, Sept. 5.—(P)—Soviet Russia brushed aside today the new Bulgarian government's claim of "strict neutrality" and demanded common war against Germany.

An official statement by the Tass News Agency directly attacked Konstantin Muraviev, the new Bulgarian premier, after he made a radio announcement today reiterating Bulgaria's desire for neutrality. It accused his government of being too weak "to pull Bulgaria out of the swamp in which it was thrown by pre-German rulers."

Bulgaria, not at war with Russia, has been seeking armistice terms from the United States and Britain. It was learned in Washington that armistice terms are being held up pending proof from Bulgarian envoys in Cairo that they can speak for the new government.

The Tass statement made it clear that the time had come for a final showdown and flatly declared that Muraviev's announcement "does not represent any progress in foreign policy." It asserted that "hundreds of German troops and thousands of German ships" continue to hide under Bulgaria's protection and that the possibility still exists of Bulgaria-based German submarines threatening Soviet shipping in the Black Sea.

London, Sept. 5.—(P)—Konstantin Muraviev, the new Bulgarian premier, promised today to restore "democratic liberties" to his people and disarm all German troops in his country. He said Bulgaria would be compelled to break off diplomatic relations with Germany (Turn to Page Nine)

9,000 Bituminous Miners Are Idle

Pittsburgh, Sept. 5.—(P)—Approximately 9,000 soft coal miners at 24 pits were kept idle by strikers today, most of them in a dispute over recognition of the new supervisors union, while 18 workings were under government control.

At the same time strike polls were under way at 20 more mines in West Virginia under the supervision of the National Labor Relations Board.

Operations were expected to be resumed tomorrow at five pits ordered seized yesterday by President Roosevelt, in an order taking over eight mines. The other ten under government control were taken over last week and all were reported operating except the MacIntyre.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES STARTING TO SHIFT

Washington, Sept. 5.—(P)—War's end seems so imminent to federal employees that there is a surge of efforts to shift from war agency payrolls to the more "permanent" civil service jobs. Congressmen disclosed today that the situation is bulging their mail bags.

Majority Whip Ramspeck (D-Ga.) revealed that hundreds of workers employed now with the army service forces are trying to get other government jobs because "they now are on a 54 hour work week" and they would like to get back to the shorter period.

Other members of the house said that federal workers in New York and Philadelphia also are striving to be returned to Washington.

Water Works Quake Shakes Is Bequeathed Warren Folks Port Allegany Last Midnight

Port Allegany, Sept. 5—A splendid gift of the Port Allegany Water Company to the borough of Port Allegany was revealed Saturday afternoon when the will of Mrs. Eleanor C. Smith, sister of the late August Smith, of Farmers Valley, was read by James A. Carlson, executor of the estate.

Other splendid bequests were made to the Samuel W. Smith Memorial Public Library, to Fairview Cemetery, to Myrtle Chapter, O. E. S., and to a number of individuals.

The gift of the water company to the borough was made subject to the borough paying $500 per year for the maintenance of the Samuel W. Smith Memorial Public Library and $1,000 per year toward the maintenance of the Fairview Cemetery. A meeting of the borough council will be held soon to discuss the acceptance of the splendid gift.

City Quiet Many Worked Over Holiday

Warren over the long holiday was about as quiet as it has ever been in history during a holiday period. The stores were closed and the streets were almost deserted. There was much traffic about the city and on the through highways but not in as great volume as had been expected. The gasoline stations in Warren were all closed over Sunday and Monday and the fellow who didn't get his ration on Saturday was out of luck.

All of the banks were closed and the post office was also tightly closed over the holiday and there was little taking place about the city. The theatres all did a good business and crowds turned out to both the Columbia and Liberty theatres where some extra good attractions had been booked.

No accidents marred the day and the police had a rather quiet weekend. There were no serious automobile crashes, although several minor smashes were investigated by the police.

CREEK IS SWOLLEN

The dam in the Conewango creek just above the Pennsylvania avenue bridge is almost hidden by the volume of water in the Conewango this morning. It is thought that the hidden rise in the creek is due to the heavy rainstorms that swept places up stream Sunday.

WILL MOVE STORE

Paul Coe, who purchased the paint and wall paper business of Harry Rogers some time ago will move the store from the location on Pennsylvania avenue opposite the bus garage to one of the store rooms in the Beckley building on Pennsylvania avenue, Times Square, about October 15th. The storeroom will be redecorated before being occupied.

MOTOR ON FIRE

A large motor attached to the water system at the Struthers-Wells plant and located in the warehouse of the company caught fire last night at 11:22. The warehouse was filled with smoke and a fire alarm was turned in. The department responded with two engine companies and the ladder truck. Their services were not needed as the fire had been extinguished with a hand extinguisher when the firemen arrived.

REPAIRS WERE MADE

Men in the employ of the New York Central railroad were busy Friday and Saturday making repairs to the black top which is used on the right of way of the company. This makes the street much better and safer for motorists and it is expected that the borough street department will soon reset the brick along the railroad and make repairs to the curb as the upended brick and rough curbing are a menace to the operation of motor vehicles on the street.

Esprit! "I couldn't just wait for the war to end. I'm working for victory!" says Corporal Margaret Wynant.

General Eisenhower calls it "esprit"!

It's A SPIRIT that rises to accept each new challenge with dignity.

It's a spirit born of vision. Of a love of freedom so great it transcends human hopes and fears. And makes any sacrifice worth while.

It's the spirit that tackles all kinds of Army jobs. Humbly. But with a joyous pride.

A spirit that has its eyes on Tomorrow—a spirit that has won the eternal respect of the Army of the United States.

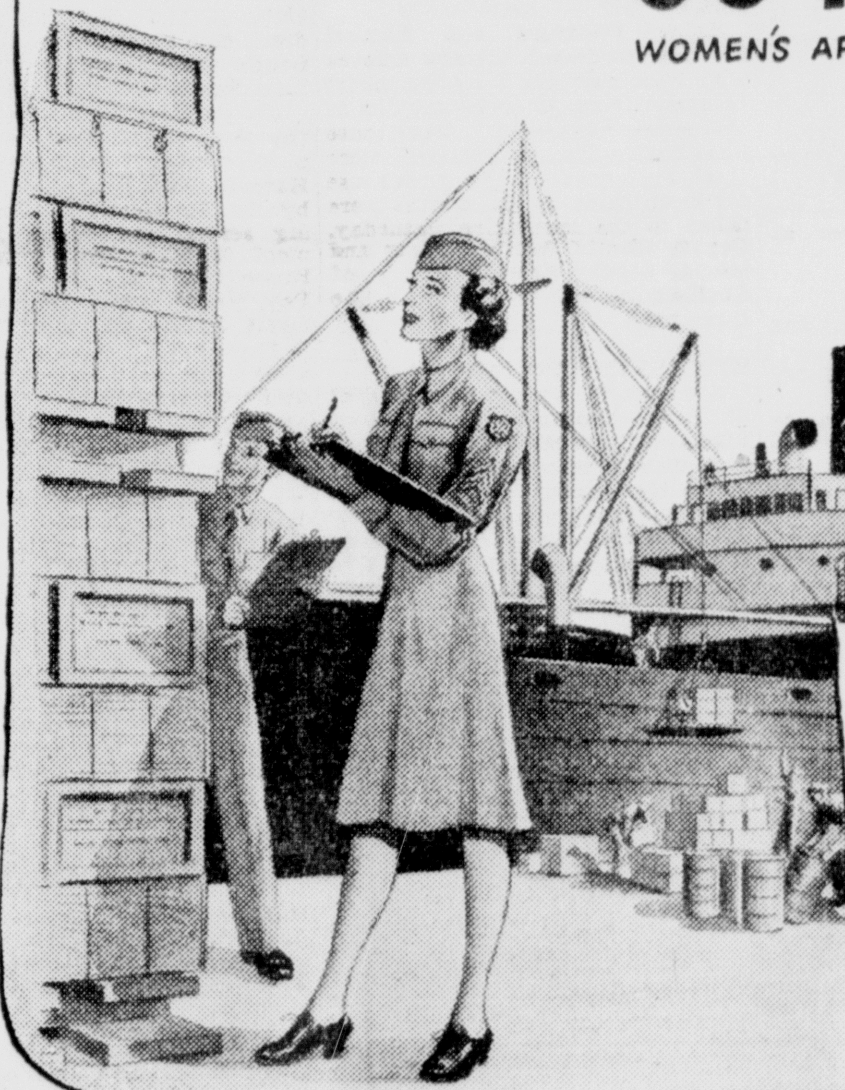

This is why General Eisenhower has said:

"The esprit constantly exhibited by our Wacs is exemplary!"

Sugar Grove Canine May Be Exhibited in New York

Mrs. Florence Proctor, Sugar Grove, owner of the champion great dane, "Flora of Canidom", has received an invitation to show the blue ribbon winner when New York stages its salute to National Dog Week with a unique exhibition in the Lower Plaza of Rockefeller Center, Wednesday, September 20th. The invitation was received in a letter from Miss Constance Bennett, chairman of the New York committee.

The three-year-old great dane has a nation-wide reputation as one of the best dogs of the breed in the country. She has taken blue ribbons everywhere, and is shown at New York would be entered as the best of the breed. She was chosen winner's bitch at Madison Square Garden two years in succession.

Society leaders and dog fanciers are expected to be much in evidence among the Plaza crowds to witness the two-hour program which will consist of demonstrations of skilled dogs, climaxed by a parade of fifty canine champions.

The opening of the show by Miss Bennett at 2:30 p. m., will be followed by a disciplinary display by Miss Blanche Saunders, well-known specialist in obedience training. Miss Saunders will lead a group of prominent New Yorkers in putting their animals through their paces at her commands.

In sharp contrast to their usual setting of field and stream, hunting dogs will be given a workout in the shadow of the Center's towering buildings. This event will include work with pointers and setters by Elias Vail of Poughkeepsie, New York, field dog expert and judge, and a demonstration of retrievers by Paul Svane of Islip, Long Island, professional trainer. Promptly at 3:30 p. m., no less than fifty aristocrats of dogdom each one representing a breed, will be paraded in front of the Prometheus fountain by their owners or trainers.

These champion dogs, varying in size from a Saint Bernard to a Pekingese, will be presented to the audience by George F. Foley, of Philadelphia, seasoned veteran of American dog show rings. Mr. Foley will also announce each dog's breed and its special function, the name of the owner or handler, and a summary of the championships he holds.

Serving with Miss Bennett on the New York committee for National Dog Week are: Bill Stern, sports commentator; Sydney H. Coleman, President of the American Humane Association; Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America; and S. Edwin Megargee, celebrated American dog artist.

BATTLE FOR GERMANY STARTS

Yankee tanks are reported fighting on Hitler's 'sacred soil'—down at Strasbourg on the Rhine in southwest Germany—and at long last we've got our noob-nail boot in the jamb of the fuhrer's front door; the battle of Germany has begun.

Other Allied forces are tearing across western Europe toward the German border so fast that official reports issued by General Eisenhower's headquarters have been as much as 48 hours behind the advancing armies because of security reasons. That seems fantastic, but when operations are in such a fluid state there are many times when the Nazis don't know the location of our fast moving columns. General Ike isn't enlightening 'em.

This of course means that the Allies are continuing to roll up one of the great victories of military history. The conditions are so extraordinary, however, that there's danger of one getting a distorted idea of just what's happening. We aren't having to battle our way forward, save in isolated instances. The Hitlerites are running like rabbits, trying to reach their Siegfried Line.

In short, the hour of Hitler's general withdrawal to his inner fortress, so far as concerns all western Europe, is at hand. And he has delayed so long, in his futile effort to throw back the invasion, that disaster rides on his shoulders like the old man of the sea. Will he be able to salvage enough from the wreckage to make a stand on the Siegfried Line?

Nobody can say how many German troops will reach the Siegfried Line. Nobody can foresee whether those who arrive will retain enough organization and equipment to be able to make a stand. None doubts that it has been Hitler's intention to fight.

SCHOOL FROM SAFETY VIEWPOINT

In spite of restricted driving, more than two thousand school-age children were killed by motor vehicle accidents in 1943, the National Safety Council reports in its new statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts".

With the new school term scheduled to start tomorrow in the borough and the county schools already opened, this alarming set of statistics on last year's accidents—the Safety Council says it represents an increase over 1942—should be giving all of us pause for thought and for firm resolve.

Without further ado, each of us should be resolving that our automobile-driving, particularly in the vicinity of school buildings and street or road crossings, will be performed with a renewed determination for care and extreme caution.

Each person having occasion to operate a motor vehicle should be resolving, at this very moment, that his chief consideration while behind the wheel will be the safety of the other fellow—especially when that "other fellow" is a schoolboy or schoolgirl.

Each of us should be resolving in our own minds the conviction that the life of some schoolboy or schoolgirl is at stake whenever we pilot our motor vehicles in the vicinity of school buildings. But that, perhaps, is not the properly emphatic way of expressing it. It is a legitimate statement of the case, we think, to say that every time we get behind the wheels of our automobiles when the schools are in session, we take into our own hands the very lives of dozens of youngsters. If we do not operate our vehicles with proper regard for the safety of these children—at street crossings where they may pass, along any thoroughfare where they may be walking, in the immediate vicinity of the schools—we are potential murderers, no less.

HALT LIQUOR SALES ON V-DAY

Moving in response to appeals from the Golden Rule club, organization of Corry merchants and businessmen, and from individual groups in that city, Mayor Hepler has announced that he is calling for all places in the city where liquor is sold, both clubs and licensed dealers, to close immediately when the expected news of the German surrender is received and to remain closed until such time as he issues an order holding that the emergency has passed. Chairman Gelder, of the State Liquor Control Board, has announced that all state stores will abide by such orders as issued by the authority of the towns in which they are located.

Those who remember what took place in Warren on the occasion of the 1918 armistice would welcome similar action in this city.

At a meeting of the Citizens' Committee in charge of plans for the Warren V-Day program held Friday evening it was decided that the group will cooperate with the Ministerial Association in urging that liquor places be closed here for the organized celebration that is being arranged.

"IT'S THE BUSIEST CAR IN POLK COUNTY..."

"EITHER FARM ERRANDS OR WAR WORK! Our 1941 Ford is kept on the go, with A. A. Committee, Board of Education, Farm Bureau, U.S.O. and War Bond work, besides farming."

"WE ALL USE THE FORD—my wife for household trips and volunteer work and my boy for his 4-H Club and scrap-drive activities. It's gone 64,000 miles and it's okay."

"COSTS MIGHTY LITTLE TO RUN! It delivers good gas and tire mileage and needs very few repairs, and the good looks and comfort surely last, too!"

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

says WILBUR T. HILDETH, Farmer
ELKHART, IOWA

Forty years of reliability, stamina and low-cost operation have made Ford cars the choice of millions. Letters from Ford owners in cities and towns and in the country, tell how well their cars are standing up. And almost always, the owner gives a big share of credit to his friendly Ford dealer, whose careful Protective Service contributes so much to maintaining America's essential transportation.

NEWS NOTES—In the Ford main powerhouse at the Rouge plant, the largest of its kind, cool is the principal fuel. But there is only one scoop-shovel in the entire building and it is chrome-plated and kept as a relic. Nowadays the cool is pulverized, blown into the boilers like gas.

High School Dragons Cop Opener, Drop Holiday Game

Academy Powerhouse Drubs Dragons in Holiday Game

Coach Lowell Drake's Erie Academy team proved too much for the Warren boys in the annual Labor Day classic, the Dragons being trounced, 26-0.

The Lions did the majority of their crossing the goal line in the first half, scoring three touchdowns and two extra points in that period. Had it not been for the interception of Warren passes the Dragons might have stood a better chance.

Erie snatched their first score in the beginning quarter when Henning intercepted Lucia's pass and raced twenty yards for the first score. The extra point was made by a conversion off the shoe of Pasky. Warren couldn't get enough control of the ball to get in scoring position.

In the second quarter the Erie boys held full control of the ball on their own 31 yard line and marched straight to the line. A beautiful fake punt by Henning which turned out to be a pass to Whipple gained 50 yards for the Academy boys. Another pass gained them 20 yards on their way to a score. It took exactly ten plays for the Academy team to get to the goal line for a score which made it 13-0.

Academy's third score came in the last of the second quarter after Morgan intercepted Lucia's pass to run thirty-five yards for another score. Whipple plunged the line for the extra point making the score 20-0 as the half ended.

The final Erie score came in the beginning of the last quarter when, after Marti punted to the 50, the Lions drove through the Warren team to gain another score, making the score 26-0.

Warren's only near successful attempt toward scoring was in the final quarter when they drove to within 25 yards of the Erie goal but couldn't quite make it.

Methodists Are Defeated By St. Joes

Friday night at Beatty Field the St. Joseph's mullish team defeated the First Methodists, 11-3, to take the second round of the YMCA church baseball championship. A practically flawless team behind the swift pitching of Nick Russo led the Catholic boys to another championship.

Starring in the hitting column for St. Joes were Albert P. Navita and Ed Zakrowski, each hitting four-baggers. Zakrowski also hit a triple and a double, and Jiggs Bonavita who hit a two-bagger. The Methodists couldn't get the feel in order to get into the game, although they did have some chances.

Shay Font's men opened up their big guns at their first chance at the plate. Julian, Bonavita and Russo all getting on base to be driven in by Zakrowski's round tripper. Then Font and Frank Bonavita got on to be driven home by Meneo's single.

St. Joes came through again in the second, scoring one. The Methodists gained their first tally in the second when Chick scored as a result of two Catholic errors.

The Catholics crossed the key-stone for one in the third, and two in the fourth as Rico Bonavita collected a homer to bring the score to 10-2. The Methodists having scored one in the third.

St. Joes collected their final tally in the sixth and the churchmen their last in the seventh, the final score being 11-3.

An effort is being made by the league, St. Joes and the Times-Mirror to bring in outside teams to play the champs. Any teams interested should get in contact with Shay Font or the Times. The box score:

Dragon Charges Pound Eagle Line For First Win, 21-7

A powerful ground-gaining attack paved the way for a 21-7 victory over the Youngsville Eagles Saturday for the Dragons in their own. Coach Leidd's charges pounded the Eagle line time and time again which proved too much for Bob Jewell's boys. Warren's passes clicked also, completing 4 out of 11.

In the first quarter, Zobrest kicked off to Youngsville's Lovison who returned the ball from the 30 to 38. Youngsville making no further gains, Tubbs kicked to Warren's 20. Wilder smashed the line for a gain of seven, putting the ball on the Dragon 27. The Warren boys were penalized five for backfield in motion. On the next play George Lucia fumbled to give the Eagles the ball on the Warren 22 yard line.

Jay White came through to intercept a Youngsville pass giving the Dragons the ball on their own forty. Warren was then penalized 15 yards for clipping, taking the ball back to the 25. Lucia smashed through the right side of the line for a gain of seven and then threw a 24-yard pass to Bob Sealise to put the ball on the Youngsville 45. Wilder smashed the line for a five yard gain to put the ball on the Eagle's 35. Here Youngsville took the ball but the Dragon line prevented them from going anywhere. The Eagles punting, Warren took the ball on the Youngsville 35 and made a grand march to the five yard line and scored on Lucia's pass to Bob Sealise, extra point being made by Adams.

Warren's second score came immediately after their first when Youngsville fumbled and Warren took over on the opponents 22 yard line and Lucia crossed the line for the second score. Marti plunged to make the extra point.

Youngsville's only score came in the first of the third quarter when Lee fumbled the ball and Thompson, Eagle captain, grabbed the ball in mid-air and raced seventy yards for a touchdown, making the score, 14-6. Carr kicked the conversion to make it 14-7.

The National Forge Baseball Club, though minus two of their regulars, played true to form to edge the Pittsburgh Monarchs, 3-1. Dix Hines gave up only four hits, one walk, and struck out five men to send the Forgers to their 29th win of the season.

The ironmen grabbed two runs in the first inning which proved to be the winning talismans. Creola, first man up, walked. Joe Massa came up and drove the apple way on into right field, accounting for two bases. Creola going to third. Up came Charlie McLean, who singled, driving in the Forger's first two runs.

From then until the sixth, the Forgers were a continual scoring threat. The Negroes couldn't quite make the grade to score until the ninth.

One of the best exhibitions of stellar ball playing was shown in the sixth inning with the Negroes at bat. The first man up clouted a fly over the third baseman's head, McKinney coming in from left field to make a beautiful catch. The next batter up drove a hard line drive down second base way, but a wonderful catch by Mike Solok proved that the Warren boys were a bit tougher. To top it all off, the third batter knocked a high, foul fly about twenty feet from the line. Freddie Gagliardi.

Next Sunday afternoon, due to the fact that the fans wish to have more games, the Forgers management will try to book another good semi-pro team to come to Wilder Field. On the following Sunday, September 17, a district all-star team, composed of players within a 150 mile radius, will come to Wilder Field to play the Forgers. The box score:

Record Set Yanks Surge To Front With By Crowds At Double Defeat of Athletic Race Tracks

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, Sept. 5.—(P)—The national pastime took a back seat to the sport of kings yesterday in the matter of pulling fans through the Labor Day turnstiles.

While eight major league doubleheaders were attracting 144,932 paying customers into the grandstands and bleachers, 10 running tracks proved magnets for 271,878 fans. And those rabid racegoers laid it on the betting line to the tune of $11,556,394—an average of $42 per customer.

Seven of the 10 tracks registered a record at the pari-mutuel windows, and six saw their turnstiles click at an unprecedented rate.

The New York Yankees, beating Philadelphia twice to leapfrog the St. Louis Browns for first place in the American League, drew baseball's top figure of 42,900 fans, but out on Long Island 50,109 crowded into Aqueduct's race track.

Will you be lucky enough to have a glass roof over your head?

You hear a lot and read a lot about how the postwar world is going to be a kind of wonderland...

A wonderland of tear-drop automobiles, helicopters, clothing made from coal, and houses from glass.

It's all quite possible.

But let's not forget that these things won't come free of charge. Let's not forget that America as a country... Americans as individuals... will need money, and plenty of it, to make these dreams of a peacetime world come true.

Today you have that money.

Are you letting it slip through your fingers? Or are you using it to help your Country win the war... and help yourself enjoy the fruits of Peace?

Every War Bond you buy and hold does both these things. Every $3 you invest now to back the Attack will bring you back $4 ten years from now when you may want and need those dollars much more than you do today.

So, keep on buying Bonds with every dollar you can scrape up. Hang on to them against all temptation.

There's no better way to back up your fighting men.

There's no better way to be sure of having the good things, the good life, in the world of tomorrow.

Chapter 26
BUT Lucky meant to solve the mystery of Joe. He'd babbled a lot to her that night he was drunk—the twisted story of a boy who, fatherless, had trusted an older man, been made the fall guy for him on a forged check charge, served a term for it. Afterward his name had been cleared, but he'd stayed in the Islands then. She knew that, but she had to know more. If she knew his connection with Thad, maybe the rest would be clearer to her, what Thad thought she'd done. She had to know.

Yet how to get at it? She felt helplessly young and immature. She wished she could be like Di. Sure and confident and able to get what she wanted—even when it was Thad. That thought forced her on.

She said, "Joe, the money Thad borrowed from Uncle Frank, that was for you, wasn't it?"

He didn't answer at once. The maid moved across the north star and back again before he finally spoke. "Yes," he conceded unwillingly. "I'm buying a boat repair business in Miami."

"Oh! I'm glad, Cappy thinks you're the best boatman in the Islands." She was genuinely glad, knowing what it would mean to him. But it didn't come any nearer solving her problem. So many questions crowded at her.

"Is 'Breshin' your real name, Joe?"

"Yes. Not that I'm any credit to it!"

The raw bitterness in his voice told her this still was painful. She couldn't probe deeper, no matter how much it meant to her. Yet she must find out some other way. So much depended on it.

It's connected with Joe, the thing that's changed Thad. I know it. But what?

Why does he want Joe to marry me? That question kept twisting, fretting, in her mind. Why? Unless Di—

But what could Di have told him? Thad wouldn't have believed her. Yet something's convinced him I've done a thing to be condemned for! I've got to find out.

The feeling of urgency possessed her. She didn't lose it, even after she went below—not until finally she dropped into the deep drugged sleep of emotional exhaustion.

HOURS later she was awakened by an abrupt change in the schooner's movement. The beam sea was gone. They were jarring into it. Overhead wind whistled through the stays, and blocks and running rigging banged with the pitch. Spray shot through the open hatch above her bunk.

She closed it, swung out of bed, hurrying into heavy slacks and a sweater. She felt anxious, without tangible foundation for it. On deck it was still dark, with the blackness that precedes a stormy dawn. Off the port quarter she caught the flash of Great Isaacs. They'd rounded out of the protected channel of the North-west Passage into a stiff sea. Solid water sloshed over the foredeck and doused her shoulder with spray. An extra hard gust heeled the schooner till the rail beside Lucky went under. She braced herself, waiting till the boat righted. Then she slid aft into the cockpit. She could see only the dark bulk of somebody at the wheel.

"Joe's forward, helping Cappy check gear," Thad's voice was rigid, toneless.

She crouched on the thwartship seat. He's there! she thought. I've got to ask him. Before anybody else comes. . . I must!

But seconds ticked by while she fought panic to get herself in hand.

THE boat wasn't slugging into the waves so hard now. The wind was slackening, but there was uneasiness in the quiet air, lull before the storm.

Lucky pressed her fingers into the sudden cushion under her. Hurry! she told herself. This may be your last chance.

"Thad," she began, forcing out the ragged phrases, "last night when you said—you didn't 'condemn' me—I think I have the right to know—what you were—"

He broke in crisply. "Lucky, at least be fair! Di made me understand that it wasn't your fault—that your environment—"

"What wasn't my fault?" Her eyes strained against the darkness to read his face.

"Don't stall, Lucky. You can't get away with it. I—saw you!"

The finality in his voice stopped her like a blow. She couldn't go on against it. But her mind caught frantically at one straw. "Di made me understand." So Di knew. Lucky stiffened. She'd make Di tell her.

You've got to finish. Did you take Thad down there?"

Di didn't answer. Instead she tried to run away from the look in Lucky's eyes. She scrambled to the deck, turning toward the companionway.

And it was then, with crushing violence, the squall hit.

THE schooner careened crazily with the onslaught. The deck was knocked out from under Di's feet. As it dropped away from her, she reeled and lost her balance. The slant of the deck steepened. She lunged, down it, feet first, with only six inches of bulwark to keep her from sliding into the sea.

Cappy yelled, "Into the wind, Lucky!"

But Lucky was no longer at the wheel. She was stretched down the tilted deck, her fingers closing over Di's wrist.

She clung to Di, fighting the giant pull of the wave receding. Her fingers on the rail tried to straighten. She kept them rigid. The muscles of her arms seemed stretched beyond endurance. She couldn't stand the pain! But she didn't let go.

Coppers Had Quiet Time Over Holiday

The long holiday for the coppers was almost a real holiday as there was little of moment faced by the police. The busiest hours of the entire period were faced Sunday afternoon when the storm brought many calls to the state police and then this morning the coppers' phone jangled merrily as scores inquired about the earthquake.

Four drunks were incarcerated during the weekend. One of them made the mistake of picking out the lawn of the chief of police on which to lay his head. This brought an interruption to the fellow's sleep and landed him in the hoosegow. One bird who had imbibed too much was found slumbering over the wheel of his car and he was transferred to a cell.

Four little disturbances were adjusted by the police and the participants lugged away to the confines of the cell room, thus effectually removed the source of trouble.

The automobile of John O. Cogswell, parked at a service station at Laurel and Pennsylvania avenue, had the glove compartment ransacked during his absence and three packages of cigarettes and other property was removed.

Neighbors of an East Side family, out of town for the holiday, saw the front door of their home open. Investigation showed no had burglars inside and the door was locked. It was thought wind had blown it open.

Rising right out of Honolulu's residential section are two extinct volcano craters—Diamond Head and Punch Bowl.

Adelaide, capital of South Australia, was named after the wife of King William IV of England.

Eight Are Injured in Crash Near Kinzua Monday Evening

A two-car collision on Rt. 59, 5 miles east of Kinzua, at 6:30 o'clock last evening, resulted in serious injuries to eight persons, four from Bradford and four from Meadville, all of whom are patients in the Bradford hospital.

A sedan reported driven by Mary Bowler of Meadville, and a pick-up truck operated by David R. McClelland of R. D. 1, Kinzua, figured in the collision.

Other passengers in the truck were Mrs. Edith Anderson, 38, and daughter, Caroline, 15, and son, William, 9, of 71 State street, Bradford, who were returning home after visiting in Kinzua. Passengers in the sedan, besides the driver, were Ellison Copeland, 39, owner of the car, Mrs. Virginia Peterson, 24, and Helen Conley, 25, all of Meadville, and Melvina Mangus, 7, of 11 King street, Bradford. The occupants of the Copeland car were returning to Meadville after visiting in Bradford and were taking the Mangus child back with them for a visit.

The injured persons were rushed to the Bradford hospital by the Templeton ambulance and another ambulance from Bradford.

Corp. J. R. Vaughn of the Warren State Police barracks, who investigated the accident, stated he was unable to ascertain from the principals what caused the crash, whether it was the slippery condition of the highway, due to the heavy rain, or the blowing out of a tire.

The Copeland car was proceeding west when, it is said, it skidded and crashed head-on into the McClelland truck which was going east.

The Mangus child is believed the most seriously hurt of the eight. She has a head injury and was unconscious when admitted to the hospital.

Others in the hospital, and the extent of their injuries are as follows:

Mrs. Anderson, fracture of the right leg.

William Anderson, brush burns on the right thigh.

Addison Copeland, possible fracture of jaw, lacerations.

Mrs. Peterson, lacerations on forehead and internal injuries.

Mrs. Bowler, lacerations of the scalp and internal injuries.

In addition to the above injuries all patients suffered considerably from shock.

"GUINEA PIG" AUCTION PLANNED AT SHALAND

Washington, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A "guinea pig" auction sale of surplus Defense Plant Corporation property will be held at Ashland, Ohio, Sept. 8, the DPG and the War Food Administration announced today.

The sale is to test this method of moving to farmers and others miscellaneous used tools, equipment and supplies which probably could not be moved successfully through the regular channels of trade.

Put up for sale at the auction will be used left-over supplies from defense plant construction jobs including hand tools, shovels, wheelbarrows, rubber boots, tarpaulins and a large number of other items.

Six Warren County Soldiers Participate In Many "Firsts"

According to a special dispatch from General Mark Clark's Fifth Army headquarters in Italy, five Warren soldiers and one from Sheffield are serving there with the 351st Regiment, 88th Infantry Division, first Selective Service infantry division to go overseas in World War II; first element of that division to enter combat; first to arrive in Italy; first to earn a Distinguished Service Cross, and first to receive a battlefield promotion.

Named in the report are Pfc. Bernard D. Littlefield, 1094, Carver street, rifleman; Pfc. Thomas C. Geniotti, 1128 Sechrist street, messenger; Pfc. James S. Geniotti, 200 Walnut street, rifleman; Pvt. Jack D. Ballard, 2 Willoughby avenue, litter bearer; Pvt. John K. O'Leary, 316 Laurel street, machinegunner. The Sheffield soldier is Pvt. Leonard A. J. Hedvall, 519 School street, ammunition bearer. The 351st is one of Gen. Clark's units which helped to drive the Germans from the Garigliano river to the Arno and, except for a brief rest period, marched and fought almost continuously for more than five months.

After two months of aggressive patrolling in the Minturno sector, the regiment participated in the smashing Fifth Army drive which started on May 11 and three days later stormed into Santa Maria Infante, key enemy bastion. Over rugged mountains and across broad valleys, the 351st pushed forward and helped to liberate Rome.

Soon after the city's fall, the regiment was given a well-earned rest. Three weeks later, however, the 351st was again slashing enemy lines and backing the defeated Germans to the north. At times the infantrymen had to move rapidly to keep up with the fleeing enemy; in other instances, important points were captured only after bitter house-to-house fighting.

Storms Sweep Over Section Sunday P. M.

Warren county and contiguous territory on Sunday were swept by a series of storms that did much damage to property and growing crops. In Warren the first storm came during the morning hours during which a deluge of rain fell that was in such violence that sewers were unable to carry off the water and many streets were turned into lakes.

In the afternoon another storm swept the city accompanied by an electrical disturbance that was vivid and heavy. Some wind also came with this storm and over the city many limbs were torn from trees and police received many calls to remove limbs from thoroughfares and of wires that had been torn loose. Wires of the traffic light at Franklin St. and Pennsylvania avenue were torn loose. Repair crews of the various utility companies were kept on the jump for some time making repairs and getting lines in shape.

Reports received from the vicinity of Sinclairville, over the New York state line, were to the effect that a regular cloudburst accompanied by heavy hail had assailed that section. Crops were levelled and growing plants were shredded by the hail. The crop loss will be heavy.

Quaker Bridge, up the Allegheny river from Warren was also swept by a most severe storm that took on the aspects of a regular "twister". Trees were blown down, hay stacks toppled over while windows were blown from homes and chimneys torn down. The wind storm was of short duration and it swept by the river bend near the Quaker Bridge station up and into the Allegheny, N. Y., State Park.
